DAY 2: Friday September 27, 2024 Discovering Historic Cagliari, Capital of Sardegna

Today we explore Cagliari, the capital of Sardegna, founded in the neolithic age between 6000-3000 BC. But many centuries later, given its central position in the Mediterranean Sea, it was developed into a vital commercial port. And just like Rome and Lisbon, Cagliari is built upon 7 hills – so wear comfortable shoes!

Today we will combine walking and driving through Cagliari and region. We will explore the medieval walled quarter and the 13th Century Cathedral, and the historic hilltop Castle. Lunch will be in the city center where you will enjoy typical Sardinian flavours. In the afternoon, we will visit Pula and see one the most important Pheonician archaeological sites of Sardegna. Pack your suit, there's a great beach nearby! Then back to the hotel for free dinner in the hotel or in the city centre.

D, Overnight at Palazzo Doglio, Cagliari

DAY 3: Saturday September 28, 2024 Il Sulcis-Iglesiente, The Mediterranean Sea & Mines

Today is an excursion day in the Sulcis-Iglesiente area with a return to Cagliari. We spend the morning discovering the industry that shaped Sardegna—mining--where we visit the world-famous ‘Porto Flavia’. We will travel back a century through the mine which takes us all the way out to its famous door to the sea with an incredible vista.

Next, we transfer to an island in the Sulcis Archipelago and enjoy a lunch in 18th century town of Calasetta at a seaside restaurant on the island of Sant’Antioco. After lunch we will stroll this unique town and visit Sardegna’s oldest church, Basilica di Sant’Antioco which features Sardegna’s only catacombs. We won’t leave this island without visiting Ipogeo Grotte Sant’Antioco, a village built into the stone dating from between the 6th and 8th century.

DAY 4: Sunday, September 29, 2024 La Marmilla and Mandrolisai

This morning we explore Sardegna's 1000-year historical site with a visit to the UNESCO site of Nuraghe Barumini, dating from the Bronze Age. There is nothing like this structure anywhere else in the world – the ancient fortress at Barumini is known to be the finest and most complete example of this prehistoric architecture. Next, we head to the heart of Sardegna, and by many it is considered the “REAL” Sardegna where the most authentic traditions are kept still to this day. We are going into the center of this famous Barbagia Madrolisai area to explore the authentic gastronomy and “cultura santa” of the region. Dine with a local family at Casa di Nonna-- the same one that Zac Efron visited in his series, “Down to Earth”-- and experience pasta making and cooking over the wood fire. We will make the typical Sardinian bread, taste the local sheeps milk cheese and many other culinary traditions and sweets of this special “Blue Zone” region. The Barbagia region is one of 5 Blue Zones worldwide which boasts the largest number of centenarians. Hopefully we can learn a few tips!

In the afternoon, we will transfer to the absolutely splendid Experience Hotel Su Gologone where you can relax, take in the vistas, the pool, and shop local treasures at its boutiques. We will meet in the evening and enjoy dinner at the hotel.
